The Association of African American Single Mothers

The AAASM Family
Chris, Jyssica, Stacey & Fred

This company has agreed to become a Communities of Hope Partner for this community. In doing so, they have agreed to assist us in our efforts. One of the major goals of the AAASM is to help low income families rise above poverty and its limitations. Communities of Hope and the programs it provides will do just that!

Communities of Hope is a community economic development program that provides an adaptable, innovative approach to the reduction of poverty in low and moderate-income communities. It is our goal to see Communities of Hope as the Nation's leading exemplary practices program in the elimination of poverty across America. 90% of all single parent homes headed by women live in poverty so it is very important that we do our best to improve low income communities.
